THE ARABIAN NEWS.

India.—The mail from Bombay (telegraphic) conveys the news that the British Government has decided to suppress the rebellion in Oude, and to send a large amount of troops and require a continued state of reinforcements.

A notice in the London Gazette reduces the standard of all troops serving in India to five feet three inches.

China.—Passengers from Hong Kong report that the Russian Admiral had come from the north and offered his services as mediator between England and China, which offer was declined, but a similar one from the American Commodore was accepted.

The Paris correspondent of the London Times says: "It is asserted that the British and French Governments have decided that in case the capture of Canton should not induce the Emperor to accept the terms offered to him, the allied troops are to march to Peking, and in that case the Emperor of the French will supply additional troops."

Later.—Dates from Hong Kong to the 15th December received per telegraph: The French Admiral has proclaimed the blockade of Canton river on the part of France. The island of Honan, opposite Canton, was occupied on the 15th December by the English and French forces.

The Chinese were allowed ten days to accept an ultimatum.

Lord Elgin's ultimatum was delivered to Yeh, who shows no disposition to submit. The island of Honan was occupied without resistance on the 15th.

Great Britain.—The festivities in honor of the approaching nuptials of the Princess Royal were the dominant topic in England. A great army of distinguished visitors from the Continent, including the King of the Belgians, and numerous Prussian Princes, &c., were the guests of the British Court.

State balls, concerts, and banquets at Buckingham Palace, and festival performances at Her Majesty's Theatre, followed each other in rapid succession.

The Duke of Devonshire died suddenly on the 18th of January, of paralysis.

Lady Boothby (formerly Mrs. Nisbett, a distinguished actress) had also died after a brief illness.

The Court of Directors of the East India Company had drawn up a lengthy petition to Parliament against the transfer of the government of India to the British Crown.

Mr. Francis Lousada has been appointed British consul at Boston.

The statistics of employment at Manchester, and in the manufacturing districts generally, show a continued improvement in the operations of the various mills, &c.

Mr. Trousdale, the American Minister at Rio, had arrived in England.

Heavy gales had prevailed around the English coast, and sundry marine disasters are reported, but no American vessels figure in the list.

France.—The attempted assassination of the Emperor had been the all-engrossing topic of the week. The day following the event addresses were made to the Emperor by representatives of the Corps Diplomatique, of the Senate, the Legislative body, the Council of State, &c., congratulating him and the Emperor upon their escape. Some of the officials in their addresses hinted that the English government should be called upon to expel those refugees who abused her hospitality by organizing in their retreat plans of destruction and perfecting their conspiracies.

The Emperor, in reply to the great bodies of the State, expressed his firm confidence and reliance in their support and devotion. He added that at the same time he was resolved to adopt such measures as might be deemed advisable, but should not depart from that path of firmness and moderation which he had hitherto followed.

The French journals had joined in the cry for the expulsion of the conspirators from Europe, and the Paris correspondent of the Times says it was positively stated that a communication had been made by the French Minister in London to the English Government demanding the expulsion from England of five political refugees, one or two Italian and the rest French.

The effect of the explosion of the three projectiles proved on investigation to be far more disastrous than was at first supposed. The number of persons more or less wounded fell little if any short of one hundred and fifty, and six had died of the injuries they sustained.

The projectiles employed were of the most formidable kind, and it is said that not less than 20 of them were meant to be used. Five minutes previous to the explosion, an Italian named Pierri, who was expelled from France in 1852, was recognized by the police, and arrested. He was armed with a six barreled revolver and a dagger, and was the bearer of a bomb similar to those exploded. Count Orsini, who was arrested at his lodgings upon information given by his servant, is said to have confessed that he threw one of the bombs. These parties, and two others, Gomez and L. Siva, alias the "Audin," also in custody, are supposed to be the chiefs in the affair.

A police officer from London had arrived in Paris for the purpose of identifying Pierri and Orsini as having been connected with the affair of Fieschi, who escaped from London some time since.

The adoption of stringent measures in regard to the Italian residents in Paris was contemplated.

A bill was to be presented to the Corps Legislatif for granting pensions to the victims of the explosions and their families.

The "instruction" against the prisoners charged with the murderous attempt had been finished, and the trial was expected to take place early in February.

A secret society had been discovered in Paris, and gunpowder and arms had been seized.

Developments by the police of Birmingham, England, show that Pierri and Orsini had laid their plans while residing in that town.

Latest Intelligence.—The Paris correspondent of the London Herald says that a formal demand has been preferred upon the British Government for the expulsion of Victor Hugo, Mazzini, Ledru Rollin, and Louis Blanc from the British territory.

It is expressed at our disagreement with several of our allies. The reason is, that the disinterested policy of France has always led her to favor, as far as treaties permit, the desires of those Peoples who turn their eyes towards her. Nevertheless, the Government about to be held at Paris will permit us to exercise a spirit of conciliation calculated to lessen the difficulties inseparable from divergencies of opinion.

Such, gentlemen, is a rapid sketch of our situation, and here I might terminate my discourse. But I think it is well at the opening of a new Legislature to examine with you where we stand, what we desire. Only those causes which are well defined and clearly expressed create profound convictions; only those unfurled standards which are carried high inspire sincere devotedness.

"What is the Empire? Is it a government hostile to enlightenment, seeking to perpetuate a pacific impulse, and to prevent the elaboration in a pacific manner of all that is good and civilizing in the principles of 1830? No. This Empire has written its principles at the head of its constitution; it has frankly adopted all which can ennoble the heart and excite the soul for good; but at the same time it is the enemy of all abstract theory—it aims at a power that shall be strong, capable of vanquishing the obstacles which may impede its march; for we must not forget that the advance of every new power is a struggle."

But, it is said, the Empire is a truth written on every page of the history of France and England, that liberty without restraint (entrave) is impossible as long as there exists in the country an obstinate faction which denies the fundamental basis of the government. For then liberty, instead of enlightening, controlling, ameliorating, becomes in the hands of parties merely a lever to overturn.

Thus, as I have not accepted the power of the nation in order to acquire an ephemeral popularity, I do not feel called upon to desert from weakness, but in order to deserve the approbation of posterity by founding something durable in France, I do not fear to say to you that, whatever may be said, the present danger does not lie in the excessive prerogatives of power, but rather in the absence of repressive laws.

"Thus the late election, notwithstanding their satisfactory result, have in certain localities offered an afflicting spectacle; conflicting parties have taken advantage of the moment to agitate the country, and we have seen some men boldly avowing themselves enemies of our national institutions, deceive the electors, and, having obtained their votes by false promises, repudiate them with disdain. You will not permit the repetition of such a scandal, and you will oblige every eligible candidate to take the oath to the Constitution before placing himself before the electors. The pacification of men's minds should be the constant aim of our endeavors, and you will aid me to reduce every extreme and factious opposition to silence."

"Is it not painful in a country which is tranquil, prosperous, and respected in Europe, to see on one hand persons revile a government to which they owe the security they enjoy, and on the other, men abusing the free exercise of their political rights to undermine institutions accepted with eagerness by the nation? Let those who instigate troubles and organize plots know that their day is past."

"I cannot conclude without speaking to you of the criminal attempt which has just taken place. I return thanks to heaven for the visible protection which it has covered the Emperor and myself, and I mourn that even one life should have been lost. Nevertheless, these conspiracies teach more than one useful lesson. The first is that the parties who have recourse to assassination prove their weakness and impotence by the desperation of their means; the second, that an assassination has never proved a success, has never served the cause of those who have armed the hand of the assassin. Neither those who struck down Cesar, nor those who killed Henry IV., profited by the murder. God never permits the triumph of the cause of crime. Thus these attempts can neither trouble my confidence in the present nor my faith in the future. If I live, the Empire will live with me; and should I fall, the Empire would even be confirmed by my death, for the indignation of the people and the army would furnish a new support to the throne of my son. Let us then look forward to the future with confidence. Let us proceed without anxious thoughts to our task, the good of all and the grandeur of the country. God protect France."

The Revue de Paris and the newspaper Le Spectateur (formerly the Assemble Nationale) have been suppressed for the publication of articles upholding republican principles. The conductors of the Estafette newspaper have been condemned to two months' imprisonment and five hundred francs fine, "for an outrage on public morals and religion."

Serious failures had occurred at Marseilles. The principal is that of the Comptoir d'Escompte de la France, a South American hide trade, with liabilities estimated at more than £300,000.

Latest.—The funds were buoyant on Friday, and the 3 per cents closed at 69.85.

Marseilles letters mention further failures, including that of the house of Conte, Fies Aine Freres.

West Indies.—The first batch of African immigrants under the new contract by the French Government arrived at Martinique recently. Symptoms of discontent had been manifested by the Africans on the island, and an attempt at flight to St. Lucia had been discovered on one of the estates.

The following is taken from the money article of the London Times for Friday evening, Jan. 22:

The English funds have shown great buoyancy to-day, and have closed at an advance of a half per cent, several large purchases having been made. The market for the establishment for the employment of their money lying idle. Consols, which left off last evening at 93, were first quoted 93 1/2, and then 94. The market for the afternoon it was known that the bank returns would again be remarkably favorable, and another rise then took place, the final bargain being at 95 1/2 for both money and account. An improvement in the rate of the approaching India loan is likely to be smaller than has recently been contemplated. In the Stock Exchange the rate for money is 2 1/2 to 2 3/4 per cent, and in the discount market it is 3 1/2 to 4 per cent. Bank stock at 224 to 226; reduced, 95 1/2 to 96 1/2; new three per cents, 95 1/2 to 96; India stock, 220 to 222; India bonds, 12 1/2 to 13 per cent; exchequer bonds, par; and exchequer bills, 12 1/2 to 13 per cent.

Foreign stocks have been in better demand, and in some cases, especially in Mexican and Russian, an advance has taken place. Turkish guaranteed also closed about 1/2 per cent higher.

In the foreign exchanges this afternoon the rates for Amsterdam and Paris were slightly lower. Hamburg showed an advance.

Letters from well-informed correspondents in receipt of late advices from South Australia entirely contradict the statement of the London Herald that seven millions, or any other sum of great magnitude, for railway works in that colony. In the colony of Victoria, eight millions is the amount proposed.

LIVERPOOL MARKETS. (From Hewitt & Co's Circular.)

Cotton.—Responding to the increasing sale in financial circles, immediately following the sailing of the Canada, an improved demand set in for cotton, which, in despite of the late favorable advices from America, has from day to day been strengthened, not only by the facility of obtaining discounts, but by the improved and improving business in Manchester, and the consequent active competition has existed throughout the week between the trade and speculators, under which, sales have daily become more considerable, and prices steadily improved. The demand has been principally for Middling and qualities below, but all grades are appreciated and held for more money. The week's transactions are 67,250 bales, and three for Saturday the 10,000, the market closing firm at an advance of 1/4d on last week's currency. We quote Middling Orleans 6 1/2; Mobile 6 1/2; Bowditch 6 1/2; West India 6 1/2; and other grades, including 365,462 American, against 328,461, including 216,883 American, for corresponding date of last year.

Tobacco.—We have again to report a steady, quiet market, the trade has taken a few hides Kentucky. Strips, current rates, and some 20 hides Va. Leaf have been sold for Ireland—beyond which there has been no demand.

Sugar.—The improvement noted at the close of last week has continued through the present, and full prices have been obtained. Among the sales are Antigua at 4 1/2, Demarara at 5 1/2 to 6 1/2, and Havana at 4 1/2 to 5 1/2. In London a rather extensive business has been done, and prices have somewhat advanced. The sales include 300 hides Cuba at 3 1/2 to 4 1/2, 500 ditto at a fraction higher, 200 Porto Rico at 4 1/2 to 5 1/2, and 100 ditto at 4 1/2 to 5 1/2.

Broadstuffs present no new feature, the market throughout the week has been quiet, and the demand limited to the wants of consumers, who, seeing the low price ruling in the provincial towns, and dull state of trade on the Continent and in America, have been slow buyers. Wheat of fine quality, being scarce, has met a steady trade at about the price of 1 1/2 to 1 3/4, but inferior qualities, being plentiful, have been less easy to sell, and in most instances have submitted to a decline of 1/4d to 3/4d. Of choice flour (crucible) French and other, there has been a fair demand, but very little offering, and for such—say New Orleans inspected, "Rose Hill," Canada, &c.—there is a fair demand at 1 1/2 to 1 3/4. Western Canada flour, in consequence of the late heavy rain, has been difficult to sell at a decline of 1/4d to 1/2d per barrel. Indian corn has met a limited inquiry at about the price of this day. To-day's market opened dull, but subsequently became firmer, and prices were advanced to 1 1/2 to 1 3/4. Spring wheat partially recovered the decline in the early part of the week, whilst other grades were resumed. EVENING BULLETIN.

XXXVTH CONGRESS—FIRST SESSION.

Tuesday's Proceedings Concluded.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.

Senate—Various petitions and memorials were presented, including one from the State of Iowa praying for a reimbursement for expenses of the Indian war at Spirit Lake, and that the volunteers in that war be entitled to receive grants of land.

Mr. Douglas moved to postpone the consideration of the army bill in order to take up his Kansas resolution calling for election returns, etc.

Mr. Mason of Va. and Mr. Green of Mo. objected and the motion was lost.

Mr. Douglas, from the Committee on Foreign Relations, offered a resolution granting authority to the President to settle the pending difficulties with Paraguay. Ordered to be printed.

The vote on Mr. Douglas's resolution was 23 yeas to 80 nays.

Yeas—Bell, Brodick, Cameron, Chandler, Collier, Dixon, Doolittle, Douglas, Durbin, Egan, Foster, Foster, Hale, Hamlin, Harlan, King, Seward, Lemmons, Stuart, Sumner, Trumbull, Wade, and Wilson.

Absentees—Bates, Bayard, Clark, Johnson of Arkansas, Reid, Thompson of Ky., Thompson of N. J., Wright.

Mr. Dixon, of Conn., commenced a reply to Mr. Toombs' speech and others on the Kansas and slavery question.

Mr. Pugh stated in explanation of his vote on Mr. Douglas's motion that, although it was on the Kansas resolution, he should vote against the postponement of the army bill.

House—A resolution was adopted authorizing the committee appointed to investigate the accounts and official conduct of the late doctress to extend their inquiry into any charges affecting the official conduct of the present doctress.

Glancy Jones, from the committee on Ways and Means, reported an appropriation bill to enable the President to fulfill the treaty of stipulations for the abolition of Sound dues.

A bill was passed appropriating $80,000 to run a boundary line between the United States territories and Texas.

On motion of Mr. Haskin, resolutions were adopted for the appointment of a special committee to investigate the facts and circumstances connected with the purchase and sale of the tract of land at Willet's or Wilkinson's Point, New York, for government fortifications, with power to send for persons and papers.

The remainder of the day was spent in calling the States for bills and resolutions on various subjects. Adjourned.

NEW HAVEN, Feb. 9.

A sad affair took place this evening. Wm. Miles, the foreman of a horse company, was shot by a student of Yale College, whose name is not yet publicly known. A moment afterwards the student was badly beaten by the foreman, who then engaged in a fight. Three shots were said to have lodged in Miles's body.

The remainder of the day was spent in calling the States for bills and resolutions on various subjects. Adjourned.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 9.

Governor Wise has written another long letter in response to an invitation to the anti-Leocompton meeting. He reiterates his former arguments in opposition to the Leocompton institution. He reviews the President's Kansas message, combatting its arguments.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 9.

River still rising slowly, and considerable ice running. The Illinois is open to Fort Peoria Lake, with a good stage of water, but above that point it is closed. The Missouri is falling fast, and is full of ice, as low down as the Osage. The upper Mississippi is receding rapidly, and very heavy ice is running from Dubuque to Hannibal. Below that point it is lighter.

A heavy and steady rain fell nearly all last night and most of this morning. The weather is cloudy and growing cold. Mercury 30.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.

The joint resolution introduced into the Senate today, from the Committee on Foreign Relations, authorizes the President to use the naval forces, if necessary, in the event of the refusal of Paraguay to give satisfaction for the attack on the steamer Water Witch, etc.

There is some talk of sending out a special minister to make the demand.

It is now generally believed that Congress will refuse to increase the army.

A large number of persons is seeking foreign and other appointments.

PORTLAND, Me., Feb. 9.

A thick snow storm prevents any prospect of the arrival of the steamer India to-night, with dispatches to the 27th.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 9, P. M.

River fallen 5 inches. Weather wet.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 9, P. M.

River 4 feet by pier mark and stationary; weather wet; mercury 44.
